

Action Lighting™ began "lighting the world" in 1987. It all began when Hugh and Charlotte Reid decided that retirement was not for them and created our parent company, American West Marketing. A friend came to them with a "new and exciting" product - smoking golf balls! So they cleared a room in their house to store, pick, pack and ship from. Within a short time, a need and market for light bulbs was recognized and a new division named Action Lighting was added.

Light bulbs became a volume business. Now with over 28 years of 'Customer First' service, and the addition of hundreds of lighting related products, Action Lighting has grown from a one room shop to a facility with 3 large warehouses and over 30 ocean containers currently used for dry storage.

Over Seventeen years ago our company began as a Christmas light installations company, and has grown to become a leader in the industry, now manufacturing and distributing commercial grade lights, displays, and installation accessories.

We are dedicated to providing other installers and consumers with quality products that will improve the efficiency of their crews, reduce costly service calls and raise their profits. We understand the needs and concerns of installers for a very good reason – We're installers too. Our product specifications come as a result of years of actual experience in the field and our fast and efficient distribution methods allow you to purchase these products at wholesale prices without having to stock large varieties or quantities of inventory. We also have several marketing tools and resources available for Christmas light installation professionals.

Our products are not just popular with installers. Our quality Christmas lights, Holiday Decorations, Holiday Inflatables and Christmas light installation accessories are very popular with commercial and residential consumers too and can be found on homes, hotels, shopping centers, municipalities, theme parks, Christmas light parks and other locations across the country.
